SWATOW NOTES

(From Our Oson Vorrespondent.) SWATOW, May 30.

On Baturday night (the 28th) thieves broke into the British Consulate and ransucked the servants quarters, despite the fact that there was a vigilant (alcepy) watchman on duty. Apparently it was a case of armed robbery as one rescal shot a gigman in the arm and made off. This rulling was chased for over a mile, eventually captured, and handed over to the Chinese authorities, who will no doubt deal out summary justice. Such rogues invariably have a bad time of it when they fall into the hunde of native officials;

There is nothing heroic about Jeffries expent his size. He is a poor conversationalist, and no one but an intimate friend can induce Jeff to talk.

Jeffries does not like the limelight. He has a herror of publicity. He loves to be-To interview Jeff is a job that no news-

Fitzsimmons lashed the big fallow when. they fought until Jeff was almost blinded by the blows, but Jeff's endrmous strongth held him together and he beat Fitzsimmons. " One of the most interesting fights in the career of this ring giant was his Correy Island battle with Jim Corbett, Corbett goaded Jeffries like a picador goading bull. Wily Jim Corbott's gloves darted 184 into the hide of this giant like barbs, into the back of a blood-mad bull: Jeff followed the tormenting Corbett around the ring, nostrils distended, blind with fury. For twenty-two rounds Corbett evaded Jeffries. In the twenty-thirty the panderous Jeff made connections. Corhett made a slight miscalculation in an effort to bedezzle Jeffries. The big fellow's left glove had ponderously thudded against Corbett's jaw. Corbett was as dead for a short time as though the Colossus of Rhodes had fallon on him. It is a fact worthy of note that the next bime Jeffries and Corbett met Tommy Ryan was in Corbett's corner instead of in Jeffries. by fellow is a different type. He seems the disease garms which invade the body has been presented with a weapon as potent over them as the modern machine gun is, potent against the old flint-lock gun. This weapon is Sanatogen, one of the most powerful restoratives and revitalising agents ever given to the world. Its remarkable properties are due to its two constituents, Casein, the solid portion of pure, new milk, and Glycero-phosphate of Soda, preparation containing phosphorus in the precise form in which it exists in the body. Ig fellow has never met anyone in the Phosphorus, as every one knows, is not ang his equal in poundage or strength. only as a physician has written "intimately te won his championship from Bob associated with the health of the system, and is indispensable for the discharge of the functions of the nervous centres," also "absolutely essential for the growth He defended his title against men like of what physiologists term the cells of body, the microscopic bricks of which human edifice is constructed." that the red blood corpuscles in a patient increased eighty thousand per cubic millimetre in a week, and the percentage of red colouring matter in them advanced from 61% to 62.5%, while another patient, who was unable to take any solid food and was losing weight rapidly so improved in a fortnight that the red corpuscles increased two hundred thousand per cubic milli-metre, their red colouring matter from 48% to 52%, and she was able to resume her household duties, completely cured of the terrible meinneholia from which she was suffering. Children are especially liable to Malaria and its pernicious after effects which may delay their development and stunt their growth. When given Sanatogen they rapidly improve. One child who at three years old, in consequence of Malaria, when it was a year and a half, was given a small quantity of Sanatogen daily, and its weight at once began to go up half-a-pound Just as Malaria causes wasting in children, it makes adults prematurely old, in consequence of the depression of the vitality of the system. The fifth annual dinner of "Compan Phiobairoan Lunnain" (London Society of Pipers) was held on Saturday evening in the Holborn Restaurant, and was a most successful gathering. Turthe absence of the chief, Lord Semphill, the president, Colonel H. R. MacKenzie, occupied the chair; and the company included Kaid Sir Harry MacLean, Sir William Johnston, Bart.; Captain Gilbert Konnedy, Captain H. L. MacLean, Lord Tonderden, Colonel Sir Aubone Fife, and Colonel the Viscount about 7,000 boys being on parade. The number of emigrants who left Glasnow on Saturday by three large liners for Canada and the United States constituted a new record. They totalled about 4300 passengers, hailing from all parts of Scotland, together with a small number of

The principal May Day celebration in Scotland took place on Sunday morning. when some hundreds of people ascended Arthur's Sent. Edinburgh. It had no political signification; the early risers were merely in search of the pleasant and harmless May dew.

By the sale of the historic estate of Dupplin, the property of the Earl of Kinnoull, there has been concluded what is believed to be the largest transaction in Scotland for many years. The estate has been in the hands of the Hays of Kinnoull for centuries. The purchaser is Sir John Dewar, Bart., M. P. for Inversessshire, the head of the great distilling firm. The estate extends to nearly 12,000 acres. Dupplin Castle, distant about six miles from Perth, was rebuilt in 182% and is situated in the centre of beautiful policy grounds. The rental amounts to about something over a quarter of a million. The Scottish National Young Men's Christian Association carry on a social service among the Territorials at the various camps. This year, with the sametion of the Commander-in-Chief and the officers of the Navy, they will undertake similar work for the men of the Fleet when they are ashore at Cromarty and Invergor-don and elsewhere in Scotland. They will provide entertainments, a postal service, facilities for letter-writing and, above all sleeping accommodation. The Rev. Murdo Mackenzie, F.C., Inverness, says that at marriages in the Highlands temperance is being more and more observed. At funerals, too, there is little or no whisky, where in former years it would have been thought a disgrace to have a burial without drink.

By an outbreak of fire in an extensive sawmill in Kelvichaugh Street, Overnewton, Glasgow, occupied by Messrs I and A. Stewart (Limited), a large area of buildings and timber were destroyed, involving a loss of about $60,000.

The late Earl of Crawford, for some years Lieutenant-Colonel of the lat Cameron Highlanders, has left £22,776.

The marriage of Lord Balfour of Burleigh's clidest daughter, the Hon. -Mary Bruce, to Major Hope, late of the King's Royal Ritles, son of the late Ray. Charles Augustus Hope, and nephew and heir of Sir Alexander Hope, Bart, of Pinkie, Musselburgh, brought a large company together at St Margaret's, Westminster, including re-presentatives of a number of Scottish families. Major Hope was accompanied by his brother. Mr Philip C. Hope, as groomsman, and the Hon. Mary Bruce was led to the alter by her father, Lord Balfour of Burleigh. The Hon. Jean Bruce was the principal brid smaid, and there were also four child-ren,—the Hon. Victoria Bruce, sister; the Hon. Margaret Sinclair, cousin (daughter, of Lord and Lady Pentland); Miss Dalia Carroll, cousin; and Miss Mary Steel-Maitland. There were five hundred wedding presents:

Mr North Dalrymple-Hamilton, late Scots Guards, elder son of the late Colonel the Hon North Dalrymple-Hamilton, and nephew of the Earl of Stair, and the Lady Marjonic Coke, elder daughter of the Earl and Counters of Leicester The marriage (which was a "silver and white" one) took place at St. Peter's Church, Enton Square, A marriage has been arranged, and will take place shortly, between the Earl of Carnwath and Maude Maitland, younger daughter of J. Eden Savile and of Mrs

THE EDUCATION QUESTION.

In one sense the somewhat belated report of the Educational Settlement Committee, of which, an outline has been supplied by Renter, comes at opportune moment. For "thoroughly sick and tired of the petty partisan quibbling which has in the world of characterised the immediate past, the public at Home will now, we imagine, he hardly in a mood to reopen a bitter, long-drawn-out controversy which would involve manya weary month of heated strife and strenuous battling. Rather would it appear more reasonable deduction to make that the people are, on the contrary, in that to accept any fair and reasonable compromise, come from whatever source it may. This view seems to be borne out by the circumstance that the newspapers of both the leading political parties welcome the recommendations embraced in the report. Without surveying the question at great length it would be well to recall a few points which will help to a better understanding of the present position than would otherwise be possible. It full will be borne in mind that in 1902 the Unionist" Government, awed at the chaotic state of education and educational administration in England and Wales, made a hold and successful attempt to grapple with the question. By abolishing School Boards and by placing all elementary educational establishments the authority of a special Committee of County or Town Councile as the case might be, the Act established for the first time one authority to control education of all kinds and of all degrees. In order to accomplish such a desirable state of offairs it became necessary to bargain with the denominational school; managers who had for so many years, thanks to the generosity of voluntary subscribers been able to place educational facilities in the way of many, especially in made until 6.15 p.m. rural districts, who would otherwise have been left uncared for. It, of course! has to be admitted that through declining contributions many of these voluntary schools were falling away in efficiency.

So the position was that the State needed schools; the Church required funds What was more reasonable, therefore, han for a compromise to be arrived at whereby the voluntary schools were to be assured innancial aid from the supplying the buildings and keeping them in thorough repair, the church managers where to be granted "the concession of deciding upon the being made to have one of the largest and haracter of the religious instruction to be provided therein? True some keen denominationalists saw in the acceptance of rate-aid the future possibility of full public control being "ultimately demanded over all branches of instruction, religious as well as secular." But the bargain was scaled. Then came the tumult. Fire-brand Nonconformists denounced the now legalised agreement in vicious language. Passive Resistance sprang into existence, and the merest suspicion of a grievance was so magnified, that to pose as martyrs became the fushion of the hour in Dissenting circles. Four years passed and then the Liberals took over the reins of Government. Of course, an Education Bill loomed large in their programme, but the ill-drawn measure of Mr Burness had an lignominous end being ultimately dropped when the House of Lords insisted on thoroughly just and necessary amendments. Then in turn came the Bills fathered by Mr McKENNA and Mr RUNCIMAN, but these, like their predecessor, were abandoned after being largely disowned by the very people in whose interests they were framed. Since that time Parliament has not been 'troubled' with any further Education Bills. In spite of the alleged burning grievances over which such fussiwas made things stand exactly as they were when the Liberals came

analysis of the positions assumed by the conflicting parties, but enough has been written to show that the question is of so large and complex a character as to allow of its being viewed from many standpoints. That in a some respects the Nonconformists have we will allow, but on the other hand and that of the chain $75.

due weight must be given to the ness said, "I'do not know y sacrifices which other bodies have made in the past and still are making by that he would take the ring with him, placing [their school buildings at the disposal of the State. That a complete. and lasting settlement is within reach we sincerely pray. Based on the principle of compromise, the recommendations made by the Educational, Settlement Committee should be honestly considered by all who wish for the welfare and true progress of our educational institutions. We are gratified to note that the preservation of religious frame of mind in which they are willing education is still advocated as an integral part of school life, and that it is held that administrative arrangements should favour sincerity religious teaching. We are quite alive to the possibility that the narrowminded may wish to split hairs on what does and what does not constitute religious education, but still we believe there are in the ranks of both parties men who can find a common ground of settlement. There only remains one criticism to be made on the recom-

THE ITALIAN CONVENT

The Italian Convent in Hongkong was honoured by a visit from His Highness the Maharajah of Mourbhauj shortly before noon on Tuesday. The visit to an establishment which, by reason of its wide functions of a benevolent and educational character. almost assumes the features of a quasipublic institution, denotes His Highness" interest; not only in the boautiful sights of mercial institutions, but in these aleo having for their object the care of the poor, the upbringing of the young, and the forming of character by an educational system adapted strictly in accordance with Govornmental requirements.

On arrival an the Convent. His Highness was received by the Superioress, Mother Teresa Martioneia, His Lordship Bishop Fozzoni and Chevalier Z. Vol. celli, Consul-General for Italy in Hongkong, who takes a very lively interest in the work and development of the Italian

Convent schools. At the invitation of the Superioress the Maharajah made an inspection of the school and through the orphanage, both in its Chinese and European sections. The kindergarten and infant class rooms were the first to be visited, and as usual on such WITH WHOM WILL HE SIDE? occasions, the distinguished visitor was pleased to note the lumbs and cheerful faces of the tiny " tore" who regarded their surroundings and emp oynicat with a happy countenance. The classes of the prinning schools were then visited and a few questions fr m the visitors elicited informutive answers from the teachers and intelligent replies from the gizls themselves. Prossing over from the old Convent building to the new and stately structure on thegrounds of "Rosehill" the higher standards. were gone throught; the beautiful chapel with its decorative stained glass windows being a subject of note en route. visitiers could not fail, to observe the spacious character of the lefty rooms which provide not only ample floor space for the number of scholars in each, but are so thoroughly well-lighted and ventilated that they are very models, of apartments of the kind in a large day and boarding school like the Convent. A very pleasing ceremony took place when the visitors assembled in the room set apart for the Boarders. A little Parsec girl-Miss Bestrice Elias who, by the way, is an orphan child, took the Maharajah by surprise when she begged leave to say a few words on behalf of the pupils of the school on the occasion of so distinguished She said :- Your Highness. It is a great honour to us that your Highness has soon fit to visit the Italian Convent and this School. We wish to thank you very much indeed, for so distinguished a visit and for your Highness' interest in the Institution which it evinces. You can feel sure that so much kindness is not lost on us or on the Sisters who look after and instruct the large number of schildren under their kind care. We appreciate very highly the trouble you have taken in coming to the Convent, especially when your stay in Hongkong is going to be such a short one. Before your Highness leaves, we wish to say that we will not forgot your visit to us. and that we will pray that Your Highness may have a safe and pleasant voyage round the world and that when you reach home in Indir you will sometimes think of the Italian Convent Schools in Hongkong. The Maharajah spoke briefly in roply and expressed the pleasure it had given him to go to the Convent and his thanks. to the Superioress for the opportunity she had given him to go over such an admirable institution. In fact, he had no idea that Hongkong possessed an institution of that sizo with the object and scope it had laid down to carry out. "His Highness again thanked the Sisters for the trouble they had gone through in showing him over the after years.

To these and all other questions which followed, Mother Martinois gave suitable replies, laying stress on her acknowledgement of the munificence and assistance of benevolent citizens in Hongkong and visitors who came from time to time. . The drawing and painting class was also visited, and in this department, too, His-Highners was pleased to testify to the careful teaching of the Sister in charge who since the institution of the class has turned out quite a number of young lady artistes in the persons of willing Chinese girls. Just before leaving, the children were having their midday recess in the large playground when His Highness had occasion to see them at play in the same way that he saw them at work just an hour The Maharajah of Mourbhanj's visit to the Convent was quite an interesting event.

R. E. v. DEPARTMENTALS.

A series of matches played between came, selected from the above units has esulted in an easy win for the Sappers by 33 games to 11. The games were played on the concrete courts in Wellington Barracks and this accounts for the heavy defeat, as the Departmentals are accustons od to grass courts. The scores were :-Catlin and Brown (R.E.) beat Hodg and Bagg 9/2. Lester and Smith (R.E.) best Huskinson and Purdue 10/1. Denman and Foreman (R.E.) lost to Andrews and Talbot 4/7. Morgan and Daniels (R.E.) beat Coombes and Smith 10/1.

A match between H.M.S. Britomart and the R.E.'s, played in the Ordnance camber last night, resulted in a win for the Sappers by the odd goal of three.

THE FUNERAL OF THE KING.

The London correspondent of the Osaks Mainichi sont the following account of the funeral of King Edward to his journal, from shence it was translated by the Kode

London, May 20, 6.10 p.m. After Westminster Hall was closed last night the crowds that had gathered outside romained in the street all night in order tosecure positions for to-day's ceremony. Subsequent to the closing of the Hall to the public, 200 selected members of the Police Force were allowed in to see the bior, and after they had retired the foreign diplomatists and military officers were ushered in. Aweird scone was presented as the lights ranged about the catafalque illuminated the golden braid of the diplomatic officials and the variegated uniforms of the military officers. Just then a fearful thunderstorm burst over the city, the claps resembling the discharge of 10-inch guns The peals of thunder a woke all London and the vivid lightning illuminated the Abboy and Westminster Hall in a way that those who witnessed the scene will never forget. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of Then darkness shut down again. Everythe Canadian Pacific Railway Company, body connected the unusual thunderstorm

Thanks to official courtesy I was pr vileged to view, the vast procession both from the front and rear of the Government Offices in Whitehall.' And in truth it was a wonderful scene as the procession, which was one and a half miles long, was outlined against the vivid green foliage of the trees and expanses of turf backed by the iridescent waters of the lake in St. James' Park. Against such a background the array of dignitaries moved in their dazzling gold and crimson uniforms and helmets and breast-plates of silvered steel. Every colour of the rainbow was presented as the repre sentatives of foreign Armies moved slowly by. There were special officers of high rank from Austria, Bulgaria, Denmark, Gormany, Norway, Portugal, Russia, Spain, and Sweden ;-officers from the Armies, officers from the Navies of these Powers. Then there were the uniforms worn by Officers from Japan, India, Montenegro, Egypt, lost to Wei Wing Lok and Wong Po Kee Turkey, Italy and a score of other countries. Every variety of headgear was Lammert and P. Currie (Craigen- in speidence. There were the black gower) beat Mohler and Wong Po Keung | bearskins of some forces and the steel helmets worn by others, flashing in the sunlight; there were haps and cockades with their plumes and feathers not all shapes and colours swaying in the breeze, As the long procession wonded its way onward the bejewelled Decorations and Orders on the Mouarchs' breasts gleamed in the sunlight and almost blinded one. Prince Fushimi, who rode beside the grand Duke Michael of Russia, excited much attention, his Oriental type of countenance and his rich uniform and decorations holding the general gaze. The presence of many richly-turbaned officers reminded spectators of England's rule over 300 million souls. A mighty impression was made by the passage of the War Lords and Sea Lords, the fighting men of the nation, followed by the great statesmen and rulers of the Empire. Field-Marshali Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener. with their batons, and bronzed Admirals with their breasts ablaze with the insigniss of many orders aroused admiration. Lord

CORRESPONDENCE.

(To the Editor of the "CHINA MIAH. Sir. - I have been a resident in cons ports in China and can testify to the success attending the system of underground tanks for storing the rainfall from each house which you advocate.

I hope some of the leading men of Hongkong will take up your idea-Mr Marray Stewart and Mr Edward Osborne for choice my opinion it would solve the Hongkong's future watersuccessfully, economically and rati nally. An ordinance such as that inoperation in Bermuda should surely be possible in Hongkong. Enclosing my card, I am

Yours truly,2 OLD CHINA COASTER.

(To the Edilor of the "Citin's Mail.") Sir - I read your leading article last night with considerable interest, for the question one's mind there desperate in every

Have you any hope that the great ones in Hongkong, who alone can effect anything in this Colony, will look upon your suggestion with favour ! If they only could then Hongkong would not be tong in instituting the system you advocate, How often the solution of a big problem lies in the very simplest of plans. " Yours, etc.,

(To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL ") Sir,-I think you have hit upon the proper solution for our water troubles-The only question which arises in my mind is whether the opposition of the landlords, who would no doubt strenuously object to go in for the expense of constructing proper underground tanks, would not prevent anything of the kind being carried out here. Besides, the P. W. D. are said to frown upon any other solution than the enlargement of the Tytam water works. Sincerely Yours,

PESSIMIST.

THE SCARCITY OF WATER.

" (To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL.") Sir, -Appearances are deceptive. I am not a civil engineer, neither do I understand the technicalities of the method of water distribution adopted at the Civil Service, the Police or any other Recreation

It is, however, satisfactory to learn from "Green Ranger" that the water used on the grounds mentioned does not come from. the public mains. I did not assert that it did-I said "apparently." Now that we have his assurance all cause for misapprehension will be removed. - Yours, etc. JUSTICE.

WEATHER REPORT.

The following notice is issued from the Hongkong Observatory :--On the 1st at 12.15 p.m .- The barometer has risen in N.E. Japan the depression having moved away over the Pacific.

The depression lying over N. Chins yesterday, has advanced Eastwards and lies now over the Gulf of Pechili. Pressure is giving way over S. W. Japan, and also over Tongking. It is low over the latter area. The highest pressure is shown Pacific to the E. of Japan. Moderate to fresh S.W. and S. winds may be expected in the Formosa Channel and over the northern shores of the China

ing at 10 a.m. to-day, 0.00 inches. 1.-Hongkong and Neighbourhood :

S.W. and S. winds, moderate or fresh; fair at first, probably rain later. 2 .- Formous Channel : Same as No. 1. 3 .- South coast of China between Hongkong and Lamocks: Same as No." L . 4.-South coast of China between Hong. kong and Hainan : Same as No. 1."

Father, Daughter and Baby Boy had Dreadful Itching Rash - Would Scratch Till They Bled and Sleep was Badly Broken - Their Cures

PROVED ECONOMICAL. AND PERMANENT

use he got more rest for of course he siways sul-He would scratch till the pimples bled. He persevered with the Cuticura Ointment every night and within a week be was completely cured. Thanks to Cuti-cura he has not had any more trouble of the old complaint. "My little girl, since vaccination, always had a rash. On the lower part of her head and neck would form white patches. I tried a lot of ointments and cold cream for this but they never did much good. She would scratch and make places bleed but she soon stopped her scratching after using Cuticura Ointment for a fortnight. She has had no return of it. She is five years old.

"My baby boy had, teething rash on his arms," legs and back for six weeks.

It used to keep us both awake all night. He would keep scratching his little less till he really made them bleed. I used to try different ointments for it. They did not do much good but since using Cuticura my baby hasn't suffered any more with teething rash. It cured him in about a week. It did not take a whole box of Cuticura to cure the lot of them.
